12TH ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S CONCERT NEXT WEEK

A local troupe has been practicing for several weeks past for the 12th annual St. Patrick's entertainment, featuring a four-act comedy drama entitled "An Arizona Cowboy," with the West Canadian Collieries' band in attendance, and a group song by the kiddies. The entertainment, as usual, will be staged in the Columbus hall on the nights of Friday and Monday, March 17th and 20th.

This is an event that is annually looked forward to with keen interest. It is supplied by all local talent, who operate under the auspices of St. Anne's church. It is expected, as in former years, that the play will be repeated in one or more other Pass centres. The programme is now in the hands of the printers.

W. J. E. McROBERTS LAID TO REST AT PINCHER CREEK

One of the most foremost business men of Pincher Creek, in the person of Mr. W. J. E. McRoberts, was laid to rest at Pincher Creek on Saturday last, with service at the United church conducted by Rev. R. Magowan. At the service Mr. A. B. McMurdo sang "O Send Thy Light," with Miss Mae Allison at the organ. The church was filled to capacity with all stores in town being closed. Pallbearers were A. Pelletier, W. H. Jackson, H. Rosenberry, J. Burns, H. O. Purdie and K. Kimble.

FORMER PASS DOCTOR HONORED AT CALGARY

Presentation of a gold-headed cane was made to Dr. George Henry Malcolmson, of Edmonton, at the mid-winter meeting of the Canadian Association of Radiologists, western division, in the Palliser hotel at Calgary.

The cane was presented to Dr. Malcolmson as the oldest living X-ray specialist in Western Canada, and was fittingly inscribed. The presentation was made by Dr. W. H. McGuffin, of Calgary, the next oldest in Western Canada.

Dr. Malcolmson, practiced medicine in Frank and Blairmore upwards of twenty-five years ago.

Relatives of the late W. J. E. McRoberts, who passed away at Pincher Creek last week are: Charles I. and Mrs. Mary Miller, New Liskeard, Ontario; Mrs. Evelyn Marshall, Waterloo, Ontario; Mrs. Margaret Evans, San Francisco, Cal.; and Miss Alice McRoberts, St. Mary's Ont. Mrs. Miller and her husband attended the last rites on Saturday.

FORMER BLAIRMORE MAN FOUND DEAD AT RAYMOND

James McMurchie, 44, assistant C. P. R. agent at Raymond, was found dead in a heated refrigerator car in the Raymond yards early Wednesday afternoon, apparently victim of gas fumes.

"Mack," as he was popularly known, was a single man, and for about eighteen years prior to 1935 was employed as assistant at the Blairmore depot. In 1935, he was transferred to Raymond.

According to the C. P. R. general offices at Lethbridge, Mack went in which charcoal was burned. A short time later Agent Christie was advised by an elevator man that a car appeared to be on fire. Investigation disclosed no fire, but smoke was pouring from the heaters. The body was found in one of the refrigerator bunkers.

The remains will be laid to rest at Macleod tomorrow afternoon.

While in Blairmore, Mack was co-bach with Danny Lewis at the rear of the drug store building. He was a nephew of the late Hon. Archie McLean, former Alberta minister of public works.

CANADIAN LEGION ANNUAL CONVENTION

The eleventh annual convention of the Alberta Command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will be held in Edmonton May 31st to June 3rd, inclusive.

Their Majesties the King and Queen will visit Edmonton on June 2nd, which fact makes this convention all the more important. We understand the Railway Passenger Association has again granted the Legion a concession of one cent a mile for coach, one and a quarter cents tourist, and one and a half first-class coach fare. These fares not only apply to accredited delegates, but fraternal delegates who are members or relatives of members as well. The opening ceremonies will take place in the main dining room of the MacDonald hotel, following which a parade will be made to the cenotaph to deposit wreaths.

The annual convention of the Alberta Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held in Calgary on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The only snow showers we have had during the week were confined to the ski hill. Coleman or Bellevue had none. These skiers are said to do lots of praying and their petitions are no doubt answered favorably.

P. A. MIQUELON

ELKS TO RE-ORGANIZE

A fair-size representation of ex-members of Blairmore Lodge of Elks met at the Cosmopolitan hotel last evening in a general interview with P. A. Miquelon, of Edmonton, Dominion Grand Lodge representative of the Order, and to consider the feasibility of bringing the local lodge back to a solid and active footing.

After considerable discussion it was unanimously decided to request the Grand Lodge to effect a thorough re-organization of Blairmore lodge—an organization that for years in the past had been an outstanding and dominating factor for good in the community life of the town and district.

This work is to be under the direct supervision of Mr. Miquelon, who has consented to remain in Blairmore for the next two to three weeks in carrying it out. All former members will be reinstated to good standing at a low nominal fee, under the Grand Lodge rehabilitation plan, and a specially low entry fee will be extended to new applicants coming in on this re-organization.

Mr. Miquelon is registered at the Cosmopolitan hotel.

SKIING BIG ATTRACTION HERE LAST SUNDAY

A large Greyhound bus and several cars were necessary to convey Lethbridge skiers to Blairmore on Sunday last, when conditions on the local runs were extremely favorable. Twenty members of the visiting and Blairmore clubs took part in various competitions, with the senior prize for a one-mile downhill race going to Maurice Thorpe, whose time was one minute and forty seconds. He was followed by B. Metcalfe, of Lethbridge, 1:47; Beecher Wilson, Blairmore, 1:47; M. Hoffman, Lethbridge, 1:55; Beecher Wilson, Blairmore, 1:55; and J. Achtem, of Lethbridge, 1:55.

Mrs. R. W. H. Pinkney, of Blairmore, and Wilma Lang, of Lethbridge, tied for first place in the ladies' race.

After the races, the skiing enthusiasts practiced slaloms and various turns, which provided thrills and spills galore.

The visitors from the city, numbering about forty-five, lunched after the day's outing at the Greenhill Grill. Hundreds of people, some from Fernie, Natal and intermediate points west, and Pincher Creek and intermediate points east, made up the gallery of onlookers.

On Sunday next, March 12th, the Crows' Nest Pass members will hold an outing. All wishing to attend will please be at the Greenhill hotel at 11 a.m. that day, and bring a lunch.

ONLY ONE SOUL-KILLING "ISM"

There are many isms today to perplex us—Nazi-ism, Communism, Fascism, and so forth—and the greatest nuisance they are! But most of them will cancel each other out; there is only one ism which kills the soul, and that is passivism—Lord Tweedsmuir.

THE PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO

(The Blairmore Enterprise, 1921)

Feb. 10.—In the Crows' Nest Pass Hockey League, Blairmore is leading, with the other five teams in the following order: Coleman, Lethbridge, Taber, Macleod and Pincher Creek.

The latest issue of "Jack Canuck" contains a cartoon entitled "Disaster in Bruce County," showing a Scotman carrying a ladder and another Scot afar off calling: "For Guidness sake, hurry, for Sandy's droonin' wi' a' the whuskey!"

T. Madden, of the Windsor hotel, Lundbreck, was a visitor here on Saturday.

Mrs. James Milne is in Lethbridge for surgical treatment.

Joe Davis, an electrician, has decided to locate in Blairmore.

The marriage of Miss Annie Houda to Dominico Giacomuzzi was celebrated in Bellevue on Saturday by Rev. W. T. Young.

Joe has just figured it out that if every Ford were a hen and laid an egg every day, and if the eggs were worth 80 cents a dozen, your income tax for the year 1920 would be just exactly $115,968,373.72.

John R. Smith, of Blairmore, has been appointed a notary public.

Feb. 17.—A large shipment of McLaughlins and Fords arrived at Coleman this week to the order of A. M. Morrison.

The marriage of Miss Annie Hietucks, of Bohemia, to Mr. Jerry Vyschold, of Frank, was solemnized on Monday by Rev. W. T. Young. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of King Tony Pondelick, on Wall Street.

Novotny Brothers have opened a meat market in Blairmore.

Alex. Morency has been elected grand junior ward of the Grand Council of Alberta, I.O.O.F.

The sum of $165.50 was realized through a kissing competition staged at Frank on Monday night. A newly married bride acted as judge of play, and claimed that her husband scored but once.

Charlie O'Brien, former Socialist M. P. for Rocky Mountain, faced charges of "criminal anarchy" at New York, but was released.

Councillor Piccarillo is determined to stop gambling in Blairmore. Many a dollar lost over the poker table could be used to buy liquor, he claimed.

Feb. 24.—Blairmore and Lethbridge played to a 3-3 tie at Lethbridge on Tuesday night. Charlie Graham did all the scoring for the Blairmore Tyrants.

Prizes for the big carnival to be held at the Bellevue skating rink on Tuesday were donated by Messrs. S. T. Humble, Kerr Bros., Johnson & Cousens and J. A. Barbour.

The coming of age of William Goodwin, junior, was celebrated in the I.O.O.F. hall at Bellevue on Tuesday evening.

The Pass was experiencing a spell of very mild weather.

Mr. Conway observed that the quiet boy at the foot of the class had not yet had an opportunity to display his knowledge of the bible, so he asked: "In what condition was Patriarch Job at the end of his life?" Immediately the boy answered: "Dead."

Members of the Blairmore hockey club were entertained on Friday night last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Green. Sixty persons were present. Mrs. Bond's orchestra furnished music for dancing, which was kept up till 3 a.m. At midnight a delicious supper was served by the hostess.

During the party, every girl present promised Tony a kiss for every goal scored against Lethbridge in the finals. Tony's taking no chances, however.

Sir Joseph Flavelle, noted Canadian financier and philanthropist, died at Palm Springs, Florida, on Tuesday, following an illness of but three days.

CANADIAN INSTITUTE HONORS FORMER BLAIRMORE OFFICIAL

At the 40th annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, held at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, the platinum medal or the International Nickel Company was awarded by the Institute to Mr. Oliver Hall, consulting engineer, Noranda Mines Limited.

Oliver Hall was born in Ontario, near the Scottish town of Ayr. He graduated in mining at McGill University in 1903 and, after post-graduate study, was awarded the degree of M.Sc. Though maintaining a high academic standing, he was an active participant in general college activities and excelled as a football player and long distance runner. His ability as a cross country runner is said to have stood him in good stead in after life when he was examining prospects. If the road was slow, he trotted on ahead and had his examination well under way when the horse and rig arrived with the sleeping bags and camp equipment.

On leaving college, he was, for a time, engineer for West Canadian Collieries at Blairmore. Subsequently, C. V. Corless induced him to join the staff of Mond Nickel Company as exploration engineer. At that time Mond Nickel Company's ores were nearing exhaustion, but in the next seven years Hall revived two old mines and added five new ones to those owned by the company. Of these, six were developed and put into operation, and two of them, the Lovack and Frood Extension, are now large mines with extensive reserves. His services were rewarded by successive advances to the positions of mine superintendent, mines manager, and finally, on the retirement of Dr. Corless, to that of general manager.

Mr. Hall is modest and retiring, but energetic and persistent. He has always given complete co-operation to those he has been associated with and has the happy faculty of being able to lead without dominating. He played an important part in bringing Mond Nickel from a struggling to a prosperous existence and in bringing about the present commanding position of Noranda. He makes no claims, but both the men who worked for and those who assisted him give him great credit and acclaim him as a man with a remarkable faculty for finding and developing ore bodies.

In 1912, Mr. Hall married Annie D. Richmond, and those who know Mrs. Hall realize that he showed the same sound judgment in choosing his mate as in picking his prospects. They have three sons, one of whom, Jim, has not only kept up his father's record in football but, as a student of mining engineering, has already won a prize from this Institute.

ALBERTA'S PREMIER TO RESIGN

The following item is copied from the February 5th issue of the News of The World, published in London, England:

"Alberta, Canada, the first province to be ruled by a Social Credit cabinet, may face a general election this year, and political observers believe that this will see the repudiation of Social Credit as a political principle. "Mr. William Aberhart, the premier, has already indicated his intention to resign, states the British United Press, and may send his party to the polls without going there himself."

One of the oldest of the Newfoundland sealing ships, of the wooden type, the Ranger, sprang a leak and sank off the Newfoundland coast on March 2nd. Her crew of 150 men were rescued by the trans-Atlantic liner Newfoundland. The Ranger was built in 1871, and has followed the seal hunt every year since with remarkably good luck.

C. N. PASS MUSICAL FESTIVAL

A meeting of the finance and executive committees of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Farmer, secretary, on Monday evening, when general matters in connection with the forthcoming 14th annual festival were gone into.

It was decided that transferable adult season tickets be sold at $2.00 each, as it was felt that this plan would be found more popular among patrons than the single admission ticket idea, saving as it does about half on the three days' sessions of the festival.

Present at the meeting were: G. E. Cruickshank, president; J. E. Upton, W. H. Moser, T. Gushul, W. G. Moffatt, W. Kerr, H. Stobbs, H. T. Halliwell and Mesdames R. Pinkney, R. Upton and J. H. Farmer.

Season tickets will be on sale in the course of a few days, and anyone desiring copies of the syllabus may obtain same from the secretary.

The community hall at Rochester, Alberta, was burned to the ground on February 28th.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Britain will spend $153,686,681 (about $768,338,400) on the navy in 1939 which will mean the largest peace-time building program under full sway.

North America is talking more of war than Great Britain. C. S. Kent, business manager of The Times of London, said in an interview at Toronto.

Native resistance is still being pressed against the Italian army in Ethiopia. Richard A. Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, told the British House of Commons.

There was an increase of 45,779 boy scouts in the United Kingdom and Ireland last year, compared with the number in 1937, the total being 460,234.

Canadian business conditions remained on a "relatively stable basis" with half the winter season over, it was reported by the Bank of Montreal in its monthly summary on trade.

An entire native village of 2,000 people has been transported from Java in the Dutch East Indies to the adjacent island of Sumatra because land at the former site could not maintain the population.

Sixteen persons have been banned from driving automobiles since the British Columbia government inaugurated tests for drivers January 1, Inspector G. A. Hood, of the motor vehicle branch announced.

Chief of the political administration of the Red army, I. Nadezhin, announced in the magazine "Party Construction" that the Soviet Russia is planning the world's most powerful navy, capable of crushing any enemy in its own waters.

Thieves Have No Chance

Diamond Set In Floor At Cuban Capitol Heavily Guarded

The $8,000 diamond set in the floor of one of the rooms of the Cuban Capitol may seem a tempting morsel to light-fingered thieves, but it is in reality heavily guarded, according to Douglas Malcolm of the American Express Travel Service.

No guards are stationed in the room itself, but beneath the tube is a hollow iron tube runs to a point where men are always on watch. Any sound made near the diamond is amplified by the tube and would bring the guards on a run.

All distances in Cuba are measured from the diamond.

Cuts Down Human Height

Scientists Claim Warm Weather Has Pronounced Effect On Growth

Two University of Cincinnati scientists concluded that temperature may have a pronounced effect upon the growth of humans. Dr. Clarence A. Mills, professor of experimental medicine, and Dr. Laurence B. Chouvenet, professor of hygiene, reported on studies which indicate that the tide in human growth is turning and people are getting smaller again. They said their study indicated that rising world temperatures in recent years have tended to halt what seemed to be a notable increase in height and weight of college students.

New Surgical Technique

Thicker Skin Grows To Fill In Grafting Over Wounds

Plastic surgeons can now lift a patch of ordinary human skin and cause it to grow thicker while waiting for transplantation to cover a wound.

This new step in healing, described in the American Journal of Surgery, makes it easier to cover bad wounds from auto accidents and burns. The thicker skin acts as a filler as well as covering. It makes repairs with one layer where formerly sometimes two layers of tissue and two operations were required.

This artificially grown skin may become a half inch, or even more, in thickness. The depth of ordinary skin grafts, including the tissue under the surface, is from 1-16th to one-eighth of an inch.

To cause skin to grow to "filler" thickness, a patch is selected, longer than wide, and cut free except at the ends, which are left intact. Thus a strap of skin is formed, still attached naturally to the body at both ends.

Next the "strap" is rolled, with the raw surface outside, in the form of a tube. This raw surface frays to heal and in so doing "granulates," forming thicker and thicker tissue. The process doubles the thickness in a few weeks.

Meanwhile the attachment of the two ends has kept the strap of skin alive and healthy. When it is thick enough, it is removed, unrolled, and laid in place, with the smooth side up, like ordinary skin grafts.

This way of growing thicker skin is the latest step in improvements of plastic surgery that began with the Great War. The war led to invention of the skin "strap," called the pedicle tube, by Sir Harold Gillies.

He rolled the skin with the smooth side outside, however. The purpose was to be able to "detach" a patch of skin from one part of the body to another without losing the normal blood supply.

The technique of rolling the same strap inside out, so that the skin is thickened, was perfected by Dr. Well Mair, M.D., of Beth David Hospital, New York.

Gardening

Plains Gardening is not a hobby that requires a lot of expensive gadgets or other equipment. A free seed catalogue, a few packages of good seeds, a few shovels, some paper, pencil, rake and a spade are the only absolutely necessary essentials.

In the average case the amount of land at one's disposal is limited, but even with but a few square yards amazing results can be achieved.

Small Plots Where space is small, it is advisable to follow a strictly informal layout with the central portion of the garden cleared of beds and shrubs and devoted entirely to grass. Around the edges will be grouped beds of perennial and annual flowers, leading up to shrubs and vines along the walls or fence boundaries. This open center adds to the effect of spaciousness, and if the rigid boundaries are softened and partially hidden so much the better.

And Larger Ones Where the garden is larger, say over 30 feet in length, it is advisable to screen off of some portion by bringing forward the surrounding shrubbery at the point of entry, or by a hedge, wall of trees so that the whole affair will not be entirely visible from any one point of observation. This will add further to that air of spaciousness and also provide a secluded corner or two for a swing, sandbox or a trellis-covered table.

Shrubbery In the general plan, the taller shrubs, such as the common apple, honey suckle, forsythia, syringa, or lilac are placed farthest back. In front go the smaller shrubs, like the barberry, in different shades of foliage, the low spires, the douglas spruce, the red cedar, the yew, the box, the privet, the holly, the laurel, the magnolia, the peonies, plants of medium height and which like all perennials when once planted and established will come up each year and flower with very little further attention.

The young men who won't get married until they can support a wife do not understand no one ever gets able.

In the old days, drinking to one's health meant just that: the host usually drank first to prove that the drink was not poisoned.

Good Farming in Denmark

By Actual Test Production Is Best In The World

As a nation the Danes are by actual test the best farmers in the world, and it does not take one long in Denmark to realize it. People of all nationalities are flocking to this tiny kingdom to learn the secrets of agrarian Denmark's success.

The actual test of good farming is, of course, the unit of production. Both for stock and crops the figure for Denmark is the highest in the world. It is as the Danes view the agricultural products they can sell abroad. Their agriculture is an export industry. Of the aggregate farm output only one-third is sold at home.

Of Danish exports, which are larger per head than those of any European country, 85 per cent. consists of agricultural products. For many years Denmark has been the greatest supplier in the world of some of the most important foodstuffs. At present 25 per cent. of the butter, about 50 per cent. of the bacon and about 25 per cent. of the eggs sold on the international markets are of Danish origin. Hence Denmark's prosperity depends upon the world supply of Denmark's agricultural products.

The superiority of Danish agriculture is not due to any superior merit attaching to Danish soil. By nature the land is poor. I am no authority on soils, but I take the word of a member of the Danish agricultural council, for it. He told me, "There are not many places in the world where land so barren and infertile has been brought under cultivation. Our land is now more than twice as fruitful as it was 50 years ago."

The farmer, and not his soil, is responsible for Denmark's peak place in the world of farmers.—Christian Science Monitor.

Paper Bicycles

Japan Producing Machines With Main Parts Made Of Fibre

A bicycle with main parts made entirely of fibre and stiff paper materials was recently announced, says the Japan Times Weekly, and is being ready for the market, and is causing considerable attention in the bicycle manufacturing circles. The bicycle, which is likely to revolutionize the entire bicycle manufacturing industry, is the first of its kind to be produced in any country, and involves a frame of fibre (also saddle and other minor parts) and mud-guard of stiff, hard paper material.

Although the price of the new bicycle has been placed at 60 yen (a yen about 25 cents) for the present, it is expected to be reduced substantially when mass production methods become possible in its manufacture.

The "paper bicycle" has been named "Kobunbisha" and is the direct result of the shortage of iron and steel materials which has practically killed the manufacturing end of the industry. Some six months' research was required to perfect the strange but practical and timely invention.

Build Up Fair Fortune

Forty-three years ago, Joseph F. Worch, then a young man, founded his family of five young children into an old hay rack, threw in his scanty possessions and with three cents in his pocket, set out in pursuit of his dream of a better life.

Now, at the other end of the trail, his will has been filed for probate in surrogate court, Middlesex County, Ont. It showed that while unable either to read or write, he had built that capital of three cents and a worn-out team of horses into almost $25,000.

In the same 43 years he raised a family of 10 children and saw three others die. His will divides his $22,122 estate among his children after making a lifetime provision for his widow.

Though he acquired a considerable amount of knowledge, Worch never learned to write. When he drew his will in June of 1935, it had to be read to him, and for a signature he scrawled an X at the bottom of the paper.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 12

PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

Golden text: Prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. 4 verses start. Use it at the first service.

Lesson: Acts 12:5-17.
Devotional reading: Psalm 34:1-8.

Explanations And Comments

The Arrest and Imprisonment of Peter, Acts 12:1-4. Peter, James and John were the three leaders among the apostles, and Herod Agrippa I, ruler of Palestine under the Romans, began his persecution of the followers of Christ by having James beheaded with a sword. Finding that this act greatly pleased the Jews, he selected Peter as his next victim and had him imprisoned to await his execution after the close of the Passover. Executions were not carried out during the Passover, and Herod was nominally a Jew and most careful in all Jewish observances. Peter was guarded in prison by four cohorts of soldiers, four sets of men, one set for each watch, two of whom were chained to Peter in his cell, and two were on guard outside, verse 6.

Peter's Deliverance, Acts 12:5-11. Peter was in prison, but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him.

The word "earnest" means "to stretch out." It implies a bow drawn to its full length and strength. So should our prayers be in prayer for Peter. When Herod was about to bring Peter forth for execution, the Passover being over, Peter was calmly sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. "There is the enemy plotting," there are the friends praying; and the man himself around whom all the menace and the intercession and the prayers have shut his eyes and quieted himself to slumber, because there, too, is He who neither slumbers nor sleeps.

The circumstances of Peter's escape are told very minutely—the count of the word (the word angel, messengers), the light in the cell that awakened Peter, the brief words to make haste, the falling of the chains, the girding and putting on of sandals and outer cloak, the command to follow, the passing of the first and the second guard, the opening of the outer gates of the prison leading into the city, the going out and passing through one soldier and then the being left alone. Peter was amazed and wrought his experience unreal until he "came to himself." The Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod.

Herod's death. The death of the Church, Acts 12:12-17. When Peter grasped the situation (Moffatt's words to make haste), he went to the house of Mary, mother of John Mark (the writer of our Second Gospel) where the church was gathered, and he was praying for him. He knocked at the gate. A maid named Rhoda answered the door, but her amazement and joy were so great when she recognized Peter's voice that she left him standing there as he ran back to tell the good news.

"Thou art mad," "It is an angel," were the incredulous responses to Rhoda's word, and was finally admitted. He quieted the surprise and joy, recounted to them the story of his escape, bade them tell the brethren, and then hastened away from Jerusalem to a safe place.

Silent Members

Parliamentarians Who Very Seldom Made A Speech

R. J. Deachman, M.P., tells the story of J. E. A. Dubac who has represented Chicoutimi, Quebec, in the House of Commons since 1929, yet has never made a speech there. It is not a record. The late James Pollock Brown, a Scot, represented the Franco-Scottish constituency of Chateauguy, Quebec, from 1881 to 1913, and in those years of continuous membership never made a speech until a month or so before his death. And the speech he made occupied only eight inches in the House record.

Some years ago Mr. Brown's name is not found in the index at all. Some years he asked a question, or interpolated a remark, or rose to question of privilege. But it was not until the long-to-be-remembered all-night sittings which marked the naval debate of 1913 that he attempted an address.

The Liberals were at that time conducting a blockade, and every member was bound to do his share. Mr. Brown did his at 5 in the morning when many of the quorum of members in attendance were fast asleep, some of them with pillows at their backs. He was probably sitting at the time he was elected to die. At any rate, his address was hardly a success, though it was somewhat longer than Hansard indicates, for speeches during that debate were condensed by the staff.

James Pollock Brown, farmer, general storekeeper and miller, was a quiet, unpretentious man who served his constituency well in other ways than speech-making; hence his name was prominent in the House of Commons. He was a member of the House of Commons in Chateauguy. But when, on his death, Sir Wilfrid Laurier mentioned his usefulness and his fine qualities, the old chieftain prefaced his remarks with the words: "Although he did not take a very great part in our discussions." And that was putting it mildly.—Toronto Star.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA PRESENTS TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST
by Dr. J. W. S. McCULLOUGH
FEWER ACCIDENTS IN 1938

From the statistical bulletin of the Metropolitan Life one learns that in the United States there was a decline of more than 10% in the aggregate of accidents of all kinds in the year just gone. The 1938 loss is the lowest since the depression years of 1932 and 1933. The figures for Canada are not at the moment available but they will probably compare favourably with those from across the line.

Motor vehicle fatalities decreased about 8,000 or from about 40,000 in 1937 to between 31,000 and 32,000 in 1938. The gain was assuredly not due to less travel by motor for there has not been an appreciable change in the amount of automobile mileage in the last two years.

From the figures piled up there seems to be little improvement in the number of persons killed in what are called home accidents in 1938. Indeed these accidents seem to be on the increase. In every year they exceed those due to motor accidents but since they are less spectacular less notice is given them.

Canada is less disturbed by cataclysms and floods than our neighbors to the south. We were spared such disasters as, for example, the hurricane and flood in the Atlantic coastal States in September and the floods in southern California during February and March which together accounted for 100 lives. Tornadoes in various places in the States cost altogether about 130 lives, while the plunging of a railroad train through a bridge in Montana was the cause of death for 300 lives.

Care on all hands would eliminate much of the loss of life through accidents. This care is required not only by those who handle automobiles but in every sphere of life. This is a plain fact when we consider that, as already mentioned, home accidents in each year continue to top the list.

A Dangerous Position

Houses Built Over A Forgotten Dump Of 80 Tons Of Shells

A new housing estate at Canbair has been built over a forgotten dump of 80 tons of shells.

Nobody knew of the existence of the dump until a railwayman told the builders they were "building over a volcano."

He described how in August 1918, when the city was held up by the Germans and almost deserted by its inhabitants, he and other civilian prisoners were forced to unload the contents of an ammunition train which had been bombed by British planes.

The builders investigated his story and found one of the shells. Shells were called in and have already recovered 20 tons of three-inch and eight-inch gas shells. It is surprising that in digging the foundation the workmen did not strike either a detonator or a fuse.

During the grape harvest of the fall, wine, instead of water, flows from the town pump of Marino, Italy. The wine is free for the pumping.

STOPPED IN A MINUTE

IMPLEMENT PRICES TARGET OF ATTACK

With the annual sessions of the legislatures, the farm implement industry is again the target of criticism.

The commonest charges are that prices of implements are out of line with prices of agricultural produce; that implement companies are harsh in their collection methods; and that in any event a combine exists to keep prices high.

Dissatisfied with low prices for grain, it may be natural for farmers to attack the implement companies. But in the light of higher production costs, increased cost of materials, labor and overhead, is the price of farm implements as high as is claimed? Is it as high relatively as for many other commodities? Is it a fair criterion to compare prices of farm machines 20 years ago and the prices today? And does the farmer, as is often said, pay out more for machinery than for anything else he purchases?

These are questions which might be answered by a frank discussion of present conditions between the men who sell and the men who are their customers. One of them may be answered by examination of facts already known. From 1929 to 1937, the farmers of Canada only averaged 3.56 per cent of their gross income as outlay for machinery, tractors and repairs. For the same period they paid 5.08 per cent of gross income for operating their cars, trucks and tractors.

Down in Owen Sound, Ontario, some interesting points in telephone etiquette were brought out at the annual meeting of a rural telephone company. The matter of "listening in," or interfering with a conversation, was taken up, and it was decided that a fine of $5 be imposed on anyone found guilty of these offenses. It was also decided that no conversation should occupy more than three minutes, and that longer conversations simply represented cheap visiting.

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alta., Mar. 9, 1939.
The Editor, Blairmore Enterprise,
Blairmore, Alberta.

Dear Sir: I have been requested by the Crow's Nest Pass Ski Club to write this letter to you for publication in your paper.

The Club is pleased that the skiing is becoming a popular sport in this district, but the Club desires that skiing be not only popular, but also safe. In order for it to be safe, there must be consideration from the skiers and from the public who are spectators. Many spectators visit the ski runs south of Blairmore each Sunday, and they are requested to observe the following:

1. Do not walk on any part of the ski runs. Your feet leave imprints on the snow which will cause an experienced skier a dangerous, sharp fall; and in particular do not walk up the runs. Skiers sliding down have, in many cases, a hard enough time keeping on their feet without having to dodge spectators at the same time. Remember, also, that a collision might do you and the skier serious harm.

2. Do not bring your dog to the ski runs unless he is on a leash. Dogs are hard to dodge, and they have a tendency to chase skiers.
3. Skiers should take notice of the above rules and in addition abide by the following:

1. When going up a ski run, go up on your skis. If you walk, you mark up the snow.
2. When going up a ski run, always go on your right hand side and keep in near the edge, so that skiers coming down will have a clear run.
3. When you fall, get up as quickly as possible and go to the nearest edge of the run and take all of your equipment with you.
4. When going down, keep away from your left hand edge as much as possible, in order to avoid hitting those coming up, and keep to your right hand edge as much as possible. In addition to the above, the public is requested not to use sleighs or toboggans on the ski runs and not to fire off guns anywhere near the runs.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.

T. J. COSTIGAN, President,
Crow's Nest Pass Ski Club.

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, March 8.—Tendency of the Alberta government to enter into unsound business ventures, as instanced by its expensive adventure in backing through the "treasury branches" idea, brought grim warnings from opposition members of the legislature last week, that the province is heading for financial disaster.

The warnings came in the debate on the budget, after it had been revealed that more than $600,000 is being expended on the "treasury branches" or "credit houses," which had a total deposit of only $224,031 in the nine months up to January 1 of this year; that treasury bills, which are just L.O.U.'s, are being deposited to replace securities in the province's sinking fund account; and that the budget calls for a total expenditure of $26,518,894 in the fiscal year 1939-1940—a record high for the province. The deficit is to be over $1,150,000.

The upward trend of taxation must be taken as a distinct warning that taxpayers have almost reached the limit of their paying ability and that no foolish, unsound or risky expenditures should be tolerated. Liberal Leader E. L. Gray told the government. But his motion for deletion of the social service tax, by which landholders in the province are assessed an extra $1,250,000 a year, was voted down by the Social Credit majority in the house.

He included the Social Credit board grant of $32,150 in the credit house appropriation in figuring the total of more than $600,000 estimated cost of that adventure, and remarked that taxpayers themselves must pay the cost of bonuses, commission fees and interest, in addition to the actual "credit house" levies.

"It is most unsound business, and can only result in an increased burden to the taxpayers of Alberta and the ultimate collapse of the treasury branch system, with a residue of increased provincial debt," Mr. Gray warned.

Meantime, the civil servants in the province have been enlisted in the treasury branches and bear the brunt of the government's experimentation with the scheme in which taxpayers just cannot win. Having assured the government that they would co-operate if the government wanted to try the business, chartered banks are continuing to help all can. But it remains a fact that Albert and his cabinet, if they really believed that banks could create money and credit out of nothing, could establish their own bank and start its operation, with the same powers as any other bank, with the money they are spending on the "credit houses"—and could have tried just what they say banks can do, including loaning money.

It remains now to be seen how much of the deposits in the "credit houses" are kept liquid; that is, whether the money put there by patrons is kept on hand, or whether it is linked with other purposes of the cabinet.

The marketing board scheme is connected with the treasury branches, ostensibly, and must be financed somehow. So far the government has been mysterious about where it expects to get some of its funds for such purposes, but the trend toward government intervention in business is demonstrated by that marketing board idea and by the threat of government interference with the province's oil industry. Oil is the only industry in Alberta to show real development in the past two years, and has done it under "private" initiative and investment. It has been developed so well that Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, is now planning a delegation to Britain to ask the British government to build a pipeline from Turner Valley to the Great Lakes.

By the first of this week, fifty-three bills, none of them of much importance, had been placed before the legislature, and the budget had been pretty well mulled over.

D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, pledged that money being squan-

WHO KNOWS WHEN THIS HAPPENED?

Social Credit Board — Province of Alberta — Bulletin

No Date, 1935-1939.
A desire to establish the Alberta Provincial Force found expression in the House last week, when a resolution by J. Unwin, M.L.A., Edson, that Alberta once more control its own police force was adopted.

During the past few years Alberta has been policed by the R. C. M. P. by arrangement with the Dominion Government, and although such an arrangement possessed qualities of mutual advantage to the Dominion and the Province, the feeling has been gaining support in some quarters that a Province which claims for its citizens all the privileges of a sovereign people, should have absolute control over the police force it expects to give effect to its laws.

The much talked of Press Act has now become law, at least it will as soon as the Lieutenant-Governor gives his assent which he has withheld, pending a decision on certain matters from Ottawa. To say that the "Press" all over Canada has protested any interference with what it calls its freedom would be to put it mildly—in glaring headlines, in editorials, over the air and at public gatherings, people have been told that this was the first evidence of Fascism, Hitlerism, of Dictatorship, of the suppression of free speech, and was contrary to every tenet of British Justice and fair-play.

Just what does the new Press Act mean, even in its widest and most comprehensive interpretation? It means two things only: First, that any newspaper which for any reason makes a mistake and gives wrong information in its news columns will be willing to grant to the Government sufficient space to reply or state the true facts. Second, that any newspaper must give to the Government, when requested, the origin of any item published in its columns.

Surely, in the interests of fair-play and truth, this is not too much to ask! A newspaper may publish anything it wishes to publish or express any views it wishes to express, the Government will not interfere, but when it throws its columns open to deliberate misstatements and misrepresentation of true facts, in the public interest, it will be time for the Government to interfere.

The Press is as free as ever it was, but it is being asked that what it presents to the reading public as news shall present the true facts.
Director of Public Relations.

dered in the government's expenditures in flowery experiments, and in various increasing items under the government's direct control, should be spent instead on things the people or the province need, such as schools, hospitals and farm assistance.

He observed that legislature members' travelling expenditures increased from $116,000 in 1935 to $142,000 in 1938; that cabinet ministers' salaries have jumped from $48,000 in 1935 to $53,000 in 1938, for a total increase of $39,000 including travelling expenses, in three years. He observed that up to last year there were 1,400 more persons on the government payroll than there were in 1935 and that they cost taxpayers an increase of $370,000 in salaries and expenses.

"If the present government had maintained the cost of salaries and travelling expenses of ministers, legislative members and civil servants to what it was in 1935," Mr. Duggan pointed out, "there would have been available $400,000 per year. This sum set aside annually at four per cent for 10 years would provide over $4,800,000. If the period were 20 years, this capital sum would be $12,000,000. If we had kept faith with our public commitments, we would be in a position to borrow $12,000,000 repayable over 20 years, by the use of $400,000 annually without adding one cent to the permanent public debt of the province."

BEAVERS' HOCKEY CLUB

Three exciting games were played this week by Ferguson's Beavers.

The first game was played on Monday, March 6th. Score 6-1 for Blairmore. Goals were made by: Kanik from Cerney, Kanik unassisted, Rees from Edl, Erikson from Gerulski, Kanik from Allen, and Erikson from Allen. Bellevue made their only goal just before the bell sounded to end the third period. Penalties were handed out to Smith and Edl, of the Beavers.

The second game was a return match at Bellevue on Tuesday, the 7th. This game was a much harder-fought battle, with all the marks of a major league game—penalties, body-checks and fights. The only goal in the first period was made by Cerney, unassisted. Gerulski, from Rees, brought the score to 2-0. Rhodes, of Bellevue, made it 2-1, and in the third period it was 2-2 by another score from Rhodes. Just before the whistle blew, Cerney, assisted by Kanik, made the score 3-2 in favor of the Beavers.

On Thursday, the 9th, the Beavers look on Hillcrest at Hillcrest, to emerge with a 7-1 victory. The ice was sticky, but the game was well played by both teams. The first period saw goals by Allen from Kanik, and Gerulski from Edl, twice. Hillcrest gained a goal in the second, while the Beavers also scored, Allen from Kanik. In the third, Kanik scored, unassisted; Cerney from Kanik, and Edl from Erikson. The game was marked by a skirmish in which the referee's glasses were broken.—E.A.

In the Alberta hoop play-downs, Stirling intermediates defeated the Columbus Club Cyclones 42-26 at the Columbus hall here on Tuesday night. Blairmore's team comprised: L. Schlosser, N. Schlosser, Fire, Pozzi, J. Chala, J. Schlosser, Dobek and B. Tedeschini; Stirling: E. Erickson, Peterson, Christianson, L. Erikson, Ogden, Procter, Selk and Hardy. As a preliminary, Blairmore and Bellevue ladies battled to a 24-all tie.

He was born at Lochaber, N.S., on January 1st, 1838, and was initiated, passed and raised to a master Mason in Caledonia Lodge No. 11 at Pictou on July 4th, 1865. The town has performed some excellent work during the week in blasting a channel for the water through ice in the river bed through central Blairmore. The ice was found to be of an average depth of upwards of four feet, and in some places had reached the top level of the cribbing. Had a mild spell of weather with rain come along there is no doubt but considerable damage to property in that locality would have resulted. The blasting was under the careful supervision of Joe Lenchucha.

"A Pig in a Poke"

In early days the word poke, meaning a bag, pouch or sack, was commonly used. We're told that a favorite trick at fairs was to tie a cat in a bag and sell it to a greenhorn for a sucking pig. If he opened the sack at the fair he "let the cat out of the bag." If he didn't discover the deception till he got home, he was laughed at for buying "a pig in a poke."

There's no such thing as "a pig in a poke" at EATON'S. Before each Catalogue is printed the experts in the EATON Research Bureau read every statement to be made regarding all the merchandise presented. Hence, if we say an article is All-Wool—it is All-Wool. There's nothing vague—nothing uncertain—nothing that can be taken two ways. Always, you KNOW what you're getting.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

George Cousens, of Ruby Creek, B. C., who was a week-end visitor at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. McLean, returned to his home on Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Cousens.

Miss Beatrice Radford left Sunday afternoon for Medicine Hat, where she attended the sessions of the Alberta Rebekah Assembly.

Dr. Lesk returned last week end from a several days' visit to Victoria, B. C.

Mrs. George Clayton and sons left Saturday for Edmonton to visit Mrs. Clayton's mother.

The United church manse was the scene of a very pretty but quiet wedding at 4:45 on March 1st, when Rev. R. Upton united in marriage Miss Margaret McCallum Coupland, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coupland, and Brynley Richards, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Richards, of Hillcrest. The bride was beautifully gowned in a floor-length dress of deep pink net over tulle, with jacket of the same material, trimmed with tiny bows of pink corded ribbon. On her head she wore a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations, with silver sandals completing her ensemble. The bride was assisted by her cousin, Miss Agnes Hutton, also beautifully gowned in a floor-length dress of pink tulle, sheer pleated from the waist down. On her head she wore a nosegay of lily of the valley, with a rose centre. She carried a bouquet of red carnations, with gold sandals completing her ensemble. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. David Richards, of Hillcrest. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Upton very beautifully sang "I Love You." Following the ceremony, the bridal party motored to the Greenhill Grill in Blairmore, where the reception was held. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by parents of both parties. For this occasion, Mrs. Coupland chose a dress of wine crepe, with a corsage of white carnations and fern. Mrs. Richards also wore a dress of wine crepe and a corsage of white carnations. The tables were nicely decorated with the bride's cake, bouquets of fresh flowers, colored candles and party favors. Mr. Isaac Hutton, acting as toastmaster, proposed the toast to the bride and groom, which was responded to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaid was proposed by Rev. Upton, and responded to by the best man. Following supper, the party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where an enjoyable evening was spent. The young couple left by auto on a honeymoon to be spent in Calgary. For travelling, the bride wore a rust and brown outfit. Upon their return, the happy couple will take up residence in Bellevue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Christie were at home to a large number of their friends at their home on Thursday, March 2nd, the occasion of their gold wedding anniversary. The numerous gifts of flowers and other articles bespoke the high esteem in which this couple are held by young and old in the community. Mrs. Christie before her marriage was Miss Sarah Jeffries, and was born in Southwick, Durham, England, on November 6th, 1870, she being 61 years. She is still very active, and does her own housework, attends church activities, and in summertime spends a lot of time in the garden among the flowers, of which she is very fond. She is better known as "Grandma," and has a cheery smile and pleasant word for all. Mr. Christie was born in 1886, he being 78 years. Most of Mr. Christie's time has been spent in church work. For a number of years he has been superintendent and teacher of the Methodist Sunday school. He was for years a preacher, and all his life he has been an active religious worker. He is at present thus actively engaged, despite advanced years, and is quite hale and hearty. In the summertime his garden is one of the rare sights of the town. Miss Jeffries and E. W. Christie were married at Bethany Independent Methodist church on March 2nd, 1899. They clearly recall walking to and from the church on their wedding day in company with Mrs. Christie's father. Of this union were born 12 children, five of whom are still living, six having died in England. One son, George, died in Bellevue about eleven years ago. Those living are: William, of Lethbridge; John, of Vancouver; Joseph, of Bellevue; Esther, of Peace River; and Albert, the youngest, at home. Mr. and Mrs. Christie came to Canada and settled in Calgary in 1907. In 1909 they came to Bellevue, and have resided here continuously since, and have made numerous friends, all of whom wish them many more years of health and happiness.

James Cousens left Wednesday afternoon for Medicine Hat, where he is attending the annual sessions of the Grand Lodge of Alberta, I.O.O.F. Mr. and Mrs. B. Richards returned Sunday from their honeymoon trip.

THE NATIONAL FORUM

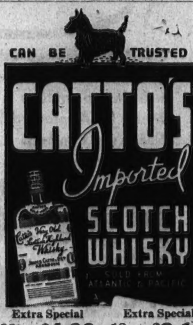

The National Forum from Edmonton and Montreal to the CBC national network will be heard on Sunday next between 8 and 8:30 p.m., the subject being "Amateur Sport and Hockey."

Controversy concerning amateur sport resolves itself into several points of view. Two distinct statements are to be heard on this occasion. The first speaker will be Dr. W. G. Hardy, of the University of Alberta, speaking from Edmonton. He is president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and is also a well known author. The second speaker, Dr. A. S. Lamb, director of students' athletics at McGill University, who will be heard from Montreal, is a member of the board of governors of the Canadian Inter-Collegiate Athletic Union. He is also connected with many other organizations in the field of amateur sport.

Conservation And Unemployment

Since the advent of the great depression and drought era, now nearing its tenth birthday, citizens of the west have become more conscious of the value of trees and of their importance, value and place in the economic life of the country.

During this decade of trial and tribulation, residents of the prairies have observed that while treeless areas have not escaped the ravages of drought, the effects of drought have been somewhat ameliorated in areas plentifully supplied with tree growth. This is mainly due to the moisture conservation power of trees in their relation to contiguous land, partly due to their ability to prevent or halt erosion and to some extent attributable to the fact that such districts by their very nature lend themselves more readily to agricultural diversification.

As a result of these observations prairie residents have become more tree conscious than they were in the days prior to 1929 and this aroused interest is reflected in the increased attendance at lectures delivered during the annual migrations of the Dominion governments' forestry and tree planting railway cars and in the keen interest which has developed in the work being done under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act and by other organizations devoted to conservation work in various forms.

The public conscience having thus been aroused to the importance, nay the necessity of conservation of moisture, it would appear that the time has arrived when very general support would be given to any worthwhile projects which the governments of the country, both federal and provincial, might be prepared to undertake, with the dual objective of conservation of moisture through afforestation and reforestation and at least a partial solution of the unemployment problem. To the extent to which these two problems could be dealt with under a common project would hearty support be forthcoming for such a scheme or series of undertakings.

In The Right Direction

Just recently it was announced by the F.P.R.A. administration that all its newly created community pastures in Saskatchewan, totalling approximately 600,000 acres are to be created game preserves and that custodians of these areas are to be given special training in game conservation as part of a program in which the provincial government, the F.P.R.A. administration and Ducks Unlimited will co-operate.

The idea seems to be an excellent one, but it might well be further extended to include a substantial program of tree planting in those community pastures where conditions lend themselves to such a project, thus widening the moisture conservation sphere of influence to adjoining farm lands and providing work as a substitute for direct relief for many now on the relief rolls.

Such work, however, need not and should not be confined to areas set aside primarily as community pastures and game preserves. It could and should be extended to Dominion and provincial parks and to wasteland areas, some of which might appropriately be developed as playgrounds and tourist resorts affording a great deal of useful and valuable work for many now idle and creating assets which would ultimately ensure some return to the country for the money thus expended. Coupled with the planting of treeless areas could well be the improvement of districts of existing natural growth.

Of Wide Value

Apart altogether from its value to agriculture in the field of moisture conservation an active and well thought out forestry program as exemplified by new plantings and improvement, preservation and care of existing plantations and of natural growth, would have an intrinsic value of great importance in the industrial and economic life of the country.

This was pertinently pointed out in the brief submitted last year to the Rowell Commission on Dominion-provincial relations by the Foundation of Ontario-Naturalists in support of their contention that the Federal government should take over provincial natural resources or alternatively should aid the provinces in developing and conserving them, in the following words:

"The general prosperity of the Canadian people and Canadian business, no matter in what province, both as sources of taxation and conversely as possible recipients of relief, is of vital concern to the Federal government; is axiomatic.

"How important, therefore, that the Federal government should be concerned that raw materials be available for the construction and building industries, for packages, boxes, barrels, etc., of all kinds for shipping Canadian produce to home and foreign markets, to railways, telephone and telegraph companies for ties, poles and posts and rolling stock, to mines for props and other construction work, to factories for the manufacture of furniture, radios, tools, implements and the hundreds of other things too numerous to mention, for fuel and the many uses on the farm."

And again the same organization pointed out that: "There is the possibility of employing relief recipients on forest improvement work, such as the building of roads, trails, fire lines, brush disposal, improving and creating tourist camp sites and conveniences, etc., etc. There still remains a tremendous amount of such work to be done."

Then why not have some of the millions being spent on relief to do some of the work and give work to those who have none?

An Old Chinese Story

Tells How Peach Blossom Became Watermark For Paper

Thirteen hundred years ago, during the Tang Dynasty, a very fascinating story of a girl committed suicide because love had passed her by. Behind her, according to the old Chinese story, she left a trail of beautiful poems, written on airy slips of peach blossom paper and addressed to her many admirers who had been attracted by her famed beauty.

The girl, Hsueh Tao, did not write poems of love, but only of encouragement, urging her admirers to seek greater knowledge or wiser methods of administration. She marked all her poems with a drop of water which spread into the form of a peach blossom. This peach blossom watermark is still carried on one of Shanghai's most popular brands of writing paper—the Hsueh Tao—which is noted for its delicate texture.

Recently, during a visit to the girl's shrine at Wang Chiang Lou, where she drew the water for making flowers on the writing paper, some Chinese girls conceived the idea of writing to their husbands and sweethearts at the front on peach-blossom paper. Hundreds of the scented and water-marked messages were dispatched from Chengtu, on each of which was written a verse of encouragement.

For Air Reserve

Flying Schools Offer Their Facilities

To The Dominion Government. Representatives of 11 flying schools operated on a commercial basis offered their facilities to the Dominion government to aid in setting up a reserve of air pilots for Canada.

In interviews with Col. V. I. Smart, deputy minister of transport, and Major-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, the flying schools delegation pointed out that many young men desired to learn to fly by were unable to afford it. They suggested the government provide some financial aid for aspiring pilots. Consideration was promised for the flying schools' suggestion of a student pilot academy for 10 hours dual instruction and the first 50 hours solo flying.

In 1938 the flying schools turned out 128 private pilots qualified for commercial flying. Of these, 20 commercial pilots licensed to fly aircraft for hire, and six air engineers or aircraft and engine maintenance men. The 11 clubs had nearly 800 students enrolled, and the 31 duals in use were in the air for 3,315 hours of dual control flight instruction and 5,448 hours of solo flying.

Missed His Boat

But Famous Tenor Had His Joke With Stage Manager

Scholastic, New York, tells this story of Leo Slezak, famous tenor, who sang Wagnerian roles at the Metropolitan several years ago.

One night Slezak was scheduled to sing the part of Lohengrin in Wagner's opera of that name. Lohengrin's first entrance is in a boat drawn by a swan, and Slezak was standing backstage ready for the correct cue to hop into the boat. Unfortunately, the stage hand in the wings opposite pulled too soon and the swan floated out on the stage without Lohengrin.

Quick as a wink, Slezak turned to the stage manager standing beside him and said, "Hey, conductor, when's the next swan?"

Guests Were Surprised

When Host Introduced Special Lighting As An Experiment

The dinner guests of Samuel G. Hibben, chatting merrily, walked into a Chicago hotel dining room one evening and took their places at the table. As they did so a subtle change occurred in the lighting system, and within a few minutes some guests were violently ill, others were mildly sick and all were entirely without appetite for the fine food before them.

The reason for this was that the celery on the table had turned a gaudy pink, the steaks a whitish grey, the tall glasses of milk were blood-red, and the salads were a sticky blue. What had been fresh green peas one moment had become black over-sized caviare the next, and side dishes of peanuts weirdly became crimson.

Instead of the usual electric lights at the Chicago dinner, Mr. Hibben had managed to have the room illuminated by specially designed filters—filters which cut out all the ordinary color of the spectrum except green and red. Mr. Hibben, an illumination engineer, knew that his guests would thus have their stomachs turned—and his experiment was a success. He told them, after normal lighting had been restored, that it was a demonstration of the effect of light and color, not only on the sense of sight but upon the related senses of taste, touch and smell. Color, he reminded his guests, could and did express or excite and stimulate a human being no less acutely than it affected the life and growth of a plant.—American Weekly.

CARDINAL PACELLI WILL BE KNOWN AS POPE PIUS XII.

Vatican City.—Crowds in St. Peter's square rejoiced both at the election of a new pope and the choice of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli—the first Roman elevated to that high office in more than two centuries.

A thunderous cry of joy went up from the multitude as the voice of Camillo Cardinal Caccia-Dominioni, amplified a thousandfold by a score of loudspeakers, announced the name of the new pope. Romans thus have a Roman as pontiff and as their bishop for the first time since 1721.

They were also happy that the long tradition of an Italian pope was preserved. There had been a widespread feeling that it might be broken at this juncture.

Another reason for rejoicing among Romans was the personal popularity of the new pontiff.

The fact the papacy came to Cardinal Pacelli as a birthday gift, which the announcer disclosed shortly after his selection, also captured the imagination of Italians.

The crowd before majestic St. Peter's had swelled to some 50,000 when two little puffs of white smoke came from the slender chimney above the Sistine chapel at 5:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. M.S.T.) to announce to the world a new pontiff had been chosen.

As the news spread, streets leading to the great square became blocked with people rushing to hear the name of the new pontiff and to receive his blessing.

By this time the square was packed with a crowd of 150,000. There was sporadic singing of the Te Deum and manifestations of anxious anticipation over who had been chosen pope.

At 6 p.m., the big doors leading to the great balcony of the Basilica swung open and the pope appeared in a tapestry bearing the papal arms hung from the balcony railing. The crowd sent up a tremendous cheer.

Several cardinals—tiny figures to most of those far below in the square—emerged from the balcony and a new pope had been elected began at 6:08 p.m.

"We have a new pope," the announcement began.

There was a cheer and then silence as all waited for his name.

It was only necessary to say "Eugenio" to let all Romans know who it was, for no other cardinal has that first name.

A greater cheer went up and it was not until he had subsided that Cardinal Caccia was able to finish "Pacelli," and announced that he would be known as Pius XII.

He disclosed that it was Cardinal Pacelli's birthday and he concluded with: "Providence could not have given the church a better pope."

Cardinal Caccia then led the multitude in a great Te Deum that thundered from the square and echoed through the Bernini colonnades.

Dusk was falling fast as the new vicar of Christ on earth was borne to the balcony on his portable throne. The light in the hall behind the balcony, contrasting sharply with the dark shadows across the facade of St. Peter's, made his tiara sparkle and his white vestments gleam.

Many knelt for the blessing. Others bowed their heads and crossed themselves.

As the words of the benediction were intoned in a melodious voice over the loudspeakers some latecomers were still forcing their way into the square.

The new pontiff's appearance lasted less than five minutes. He remained on the balcony a moment or two after reciting the blessing, flourishing his hand in the sign of the cross and receiving the acclaim of the faithful below.

A New Democracy

Hon. W. D. Herridge Advocates Political Reform Movement

Ottawa.—A New Democracy movement which will seek to organize a committee in every federal constituency to endorse reform candidates and rally the progressive vote in the next general election was announced here by Hon. W. D. Herridge, Ottawa lawyer and former Canadian minister to Washington.

Speaking in the Little Theatre at a meeting called by a local forum committee which has "demanded to know what I would do to get progress," Mr. Herridge said the first job of the movement will be to turn out the old political parties, Liberal and Conservative, and elect a people's parliament. "Political reform comes before economic reform. Just now our job is political reform."

At many points in Canada the New Democracy movement is already mobilizing, he continued.

"There are groups everywhere; groups and combinations of groups. And they are all heading towards this definite objective: to pack the next parliament with men and women free from the political machine."

Mr. Herridge, brother-in-law of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Conservative prime minister, had hinted in previous speeches that a new political movement was being launched. He is expected to follow up his announcement with an extensive speaking tour.

Declaring the Liberal and Conservative parties were on the side of reaction, he said the Canadian people will have to decide between the old parties and democracy.

"For if the old parties are left in control of parliament I believe they will unite. After the next election or perhaps before, the Liberal and Conservative parties will become one party."

Show Large Increase

Exports To United States Higher Under New Treaty

Ottawa.—In the first month of operation of the new Canada-United States trade treaty, the Dominion's exports to the American republic to the value of $36,777,000, an increase of 75 per cent. compared with $20,733,750 per cent. in January, 1938, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

Canada's total exports to all countries during the month at $81,046,000 was an increase of 15.1 per cent. compared with $71,022,000.

During the debate on the trade treaty in the House of Commons opposition members attributed the increase in U.S. exports to the fact many exporters held their normal December exports until January to take advantage of tariff changes.

Exports to the United Kingdom, Canada's other best country in trade, dropped to $25,000,000, a decrease of 23 per cent. Australia was Canada's third best customer in January, exports to that country totalling $3,055,881 against $3,156,183.

Explosion Of Army Arsenal

Hundreds Were Killed And Injured In Japanese Disaster

Osaka, Japan.—Police announced probably 200 persons were blown to bits and burned to death and at least 200 others injured in the explosion of an army arsenal in suburban Hirakawa.

The police communique said 600 homes were destroyed by the flames which swept through the suburb from exploding munitions. As a result, 5,800 persons were homeless.

The disaster, unprecedented for its type in Japan's industrial history, occurred from an undetermined cause.

Windows were broken for miles around by the force of the blast, telephone and telegraph wires were thrown down, and railway and street car service had to be suspended.

Because of the hour of the explosion, it was believed a majority of the killed and injured were women and children.

Osaka is Japan's second largest city and is 330 miles west of Tokyo.

WARNING FROM KING ON DEFENCE CONTRACT DEBATE

Ottawa.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King bluntly warned parliament it might soon be called upon to discuss more important questions than any referred to it so far, as he pointed to a critical international situation.

He did so in an appeal to members of the house to get along with the business before them and also to avoid making statements which might be misinterpreted in other countries or might create unnecessary suspicion concerning the national defence department.

"I think all of us," he said, "would be well advised to get along with the business of this parliament as rapidly as we can because we may at any moment be called upon to consider questions larger than any we have discussed thus far. I pray it will not come but who can say it will not in the light of the knowledge that every man has who reads the daily press from day to day or from hour to hour?"

The prime minister's warning came in the second debate of the session on defence contracts. Grant MacNeill (C.C.F., Vancouver North) had moved a contract for shells awarded on a cost plus basis to Montreal Construction, Supply and Equipment Company, Limited, he referred to the public accounts committee.

Following an earlier debate the house adopted another MacNeill motion to refer the Bren gun contract with John Inglis Co., Limited, to the same committee.

Mr. MacNeill King objected to the time of the house being taken up debating contracts when all parties were agreed upon a committee inquiry. Members had not read the contract and were in no position to discuss it without full information which the committee would obtain.

Yet opposition members, when the government agreed to a committee inquiry, insisted on making speeches suggesting something was wrong in the defence department.

At a time when certain people in Canada were seeking to undermine democratic institutions and in the light of the international situation, it was surely undesirable to raise any unnecessary suspicion concerning any government department, especially the department of national defence.

Mr. MacNeill asked the shell contract was an instance of a favored contractor being singled out for government business without competitive tenders. He charged the company which received the contract was not equipped to make shells.

In reply Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of defence, reminded the house he had expressed a desire last session to have all defence contracts reviewed by the committee. He accepted the motion for the government and explained the contract was an educational order to determine what private industry could do in the way of producing shells in an emergency.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, said the minister's speech answered some of the criticism advanced by Mr. MacNeill but the latter had "performed a public service in bringing the contract to the notice of parliament and moving for an inquiry."

Dr. Manion wondered why the con-

Contract had not been tabled until more than 14 months after it was signed. "There is no obligation to table them," said a government supporter.

"Why shouldn't all munitions contracts be tabled?" Dr. Manion asked. "If that is the will of the house it will be done," Mr. Mackenzie said.

"Then, so far as I am concerned, that is the will of the house," Dr. Manion retorted.

"Was it done during the last war?" asked a Liberal member. "I don't care what was done in the last war," Dr. Manion exclaimed.

"Don't let us repeat mistakes that were made then."

"There was no richer prize than Canada for any world conqueror, 'or a Hitler'," Dr. Manion declared, and he supported the government fully in its defence plans. "We must be ready to defend ourselves and not trust to England or the United States."

For the $70,000,000 spent on defence in the past two years Dr. Manion was of the opinion there was careful consideration to be given. We should get something for our money. I don't think there should be any more of this business of picking friends for contracts."

Plans For Ottawa Visit

The King and Queen Will Make Eight Appearances In Capital

Ottawa.—The King and Queen will appear before the public eight times during their four-day stay in Ottawa starting May 17, according to a tentative plan made public by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The plan includes a state dinner on the evening of May 17 at Rideau Hall, residence of the governor-general; a parliamentary dinner at the Chateau Laurier hotel May 18; the Queen to lay the corner stone of the new supreme court building, May 19, after which they will visit the Senate and the House of Commons, both of which will have adjourned for the month of the royal visit. On May 20 they will attend a garden party at Rideau Hall.

Request Is Made For Operation Of The Wheat Board

Ottawa.—Continued operation of the Canadian wheat board, the recommendation of the Furzeon grain commission report for coping with abnormal market conditions, was urged upon the Dominion government by a committee representing western wheat growers, dealers and business men.

Premier Braden, chief spokesman of the delegation, said the committee received a "very courteous and satisfactory" interview with the federal cabinet.

Its proposals, the brief said, were agreed upon only after "lengthy and careful" consideration to possible alternative plans and to criticism directed to the present plan" and were believed to be the most practical method of assisting western agriculture in the coming year.

The wheat board afforded protection against possible further demoralization of the market structure during a period of excessive world wheat supplies, as appeared would be the case this year.

In this connection the committee pointed out that the bumper 1937 crop of 422,000,000 bushels, which sold at about 55 cents a bushel, farm basis, "precipitated the most difficult period in the history of the prairie provinces."

In the interests of the prairie provinces and of the nation, such a condition must not be permitted to occur again. There must be established an adequate minimum price.

No farmer should be forced to sell his crop below that price which gives reasonable protection to the wheat industry and the wheat grower."

The committee emphasized that the Canadian wheat grower was faced with direct government intervention in the wheat market by Canada's greatest competitors, the United States and Argentina, as well as by Russia and the Danubian exporting countries.

"Inequalities of income to wheat farmers under a wheat board plan are no different than those which would prevail with corresponding yields under open market price levels which would make the guarantee operative," the brief said.

"Such inequalities in two or more successive years tend to be balanced between different areas, subject only to the natural advantages of one area over another, in which advantages of soil, climate and distance from market are all factors to be considered."

The committee stressed there should be no confusion between the problem of relief for conditions arising from crop failure and the problem of low prices for wheat due to international causes.

"The essential problem of a distressed industry cannot be resolved in the terms of the different problems of a distressed area. The difficulties of depressed areas are concerned with 'depth and persistence. The difficulties of a depressed industry are concerned with price."

R.C.A.F. FIGHTING PLANE CRASHES AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver.—One of the Royal Canadian Air Force's new Hawker Hurricane fighting planes crashed and burned while taking off from Sea Island civic airport, but the pilot, Sergt. R. L. Davis, of No. 1 fighter squadron, Calgary, leaped from the craft and escaped unhurt.

The plane, taking off toward the west, struck a Yukon Southern Airways plane on the ground, taking a wing off the transport craft, then raced forward 50 yards more, nosed into the ground and burst into flames.

The machine, recently assembled here by R.C.A.F. men from No. 1 squadron in Calgary, was one of six purchased in Great Britain for the Canadian fighting forces.

The six planes will be stationed in Calgary.

The one which crashed had been under flying test for several days. Spectators said the pilot apparently lost control of the speedy craft as he was taxiing for a take-off. He jumped to the ground just before the Hawker collided with the transport plane.

Pilot Davis was stunned by his leap to the ground. He was led from the airfield by an officer of the Jericho Beach station of the R.C.A.F. here.

The new plane was valued at $45,000. No estimate of damage to the Yukon Southern plane was available. Its right wing was torn completely off by the impact.

Spectators said the Hawker seemed to be travelling along the runway about 60 miles an hour when Sergeant Davis hurried himself from the cramped, one-man cockpit of the eight-gun fighter.

Wing Commander E. L. McLeod, in charge of the Jericho station, said he was "utterly unable" to account for the crash.

"There couldn't have been any mechanical fault," he said. "The plane had been perfectly inspected and was in perfect flying condition."

Sergeant Davis, said, "just had a streak of bad luck." He said Davis is a thoroughly competent pilot although he had never before been in the controls of the speedy Hawker.

After testing the craft just recently, Squadron Leader Elmer Fullerton, of Calgary squadron, described the ship as the "sweetest one in the world" and told newspapermen it handled perfectly.

Gets Biggest Stock Quota

Canada Allocated 86.2 Per Cent. For Imports Into United States

Washington.—President Roosevelt, the state department announced, has signed a proclamation allocating to Canada 86.2 per cent. of the world quota for imports of cattle into the United States.

The quarterly quota of 60,000 head is allocated as follows: Canada, 51,720; all other foreign countries, 8,280.

The first quarter quota already has been exhausted. The remainder of the year beginning April 1 is allocated: Canada, 42,280 head; all other foreign countries, 27,720.

The trade agreement with Canada signed Nov. 17 of last year provided that not more than 225,000 head of cattle weighing 700 pounds or more may be imported from all countries in any calendar year at a duty of 1½ cents per pound and that not more than 60,000 head may be imported in any quarter year.

Imports above these amounts are dutiable at three cents per pound. The trade agreement provided that, if Canada, following consultation with the U.S. government, requested allocation of the tariff quota for heavy cattle, the U.S. government would take the necessary steps to allocate the quota.

U.S. Building Drivible

Washington.—The United States navy begins a new chapter in its airship experiments by opening bids for construction of its first dirigible in more than a decade. The dirigible's length will not exceed 325 feet and the capacity will be under 1,000,000 cubic feet—less than a sixth the size of the ill-starred naval airships Akron and Macon.

Adds To Force

London.—Italy has advised Great Britain it will increase its already heavily reinforced Libyan garrison even further, it was learned. The information was conveyed to the Earl of Perth, British ambassador at Rome, by Giuseppe Bassani, Italian foreign under-secretary.
